Digital (Discord)

HyperHacks is an online event where software and hardware developers from around the world form teams to create a project in only 48 hours. This type of event is typically called a "hackathon". Our hackathon is focused on innovation. We want to inspire students to create a unique project that brings value to society. Through our workshops, we want to give participants the knowledge to take their project further after the hackathon ends.

Why Sponsor?

Recruiting

Sponsoring gives you access to the most ambitious and innovative students in tech. With our diamond tier, you get access to the resumes and emails of our hackers.

Exposure

Sponsoring HyperHacks is a great way to improve brand recognition among up and coming developers. We have a variety of options to advertise your brand to hackers, such as your logo on our website, time at opening and closing ceremonies, workshops, social media promos, and more.

Feedback

Want feedback on a new product? Having a sponsored prize and a mentor is the best way to get feedback on your technology from developers.
